Subject: Survey Capturing Interest in MC Day (Advising Day) Events/Engagement
Date: September 19, 2025

We are pleased to announce that MC Day (Advising Day) will take place on Tuesday, October 21, 2025. This signature annual event brings together the full Montgomery College community—students, faculty, staff, families, and partners—for a day of connection, discovery, and support.

MC Day is designed to showcase the depth and breadth of Montgomery College. Students will be able to engage in advising sessions, explore academic programs, attend interactive workshops, visit open houses, and participate in demonstrations and activities highlighting the pathways and resources available to them. Families and community members are also invited to learn more about the College's programs, services, and opportunities.

The day will begin with a Resource Fair from 9–10 a.m., featuring representatives from student support programs, academic departments, libraries, learning centers, and College services. The fair will include snacks and giveaways to welcome participants. From 10 a.m.–6 p.m., events will continue across all campuses and centers, offering a variety of opportunities for engagement and student success.

We encourage every part of the College to be actively involved. Academic departments, student services, Student Life, student clubs and organizations, student government associations, libraries, tutoring and learning centers, workforce programs, and co-curricular offices all play a vital role in helping students plan and achieve their goals. Whether through advising, workshops, demonstrations, information tables, student-led activities, or creative engagement opportunities, your contributions will make MC Day a meaningful and memorable experience for our students.

Please submit your department or unit's activities through the MC Day Planning Form by Friday, September 26, 2025.

If you have questions, please contact your respective campus or center dean.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to student success. Together, we will ensure that MC Day is a vibrant celebration of all that Montgomery College has to offer.
